

Hello! My name is Ida Børve Smith, and I want to become your next female representative in the faculty board for LANDSAM. I am 23 years old and study landscape architecture, which I started fall 2018. Before I came to Ås I had a year as a geography student at NTNU, travelled, and worked in both Norway and China.

The reason that I am running for faculty board is that I hope to contribute to influence the faculty in the students favour. I am a representative for the Student Parliament for LANDSAM and I work in the light committee at Samfunnet, and feel with that that I have gained a glimpse in to both the social and professional world here on NMBU. In Student Parliament, I have worked through a resolution for safe passage over Kirkeveien (between the kindergarden and Akropolis) and I am currently working different cases I am hoping will have an effect on NMBU.

I wish to bring this dedication on to the faculty board in hope that I will be able to work for the students there.

Happy election week,

Ida Børve Smith
